The State Library has something for everyone in need of public policy, legal, census, medical, or patents and trademark information.

Public Policy

The State Library can provide you information on:

- Organizational management
- Customer service and quality improvement
- Government
- Social policy
- Economic issues
- Statistics

The collection includes books, journals, current databases, videos, state and federal documents and access to Web sites that ensure a wide coverage of topics of interest.

Legal Information

The State Law Library of Iowa is your authoritative source for historical and current legal, legislative and judicial information for all 50 states and federal jurisdictions.

The Law Library's collection includes:

- Annotated statutes
- Administrative rules and regulations
- Case law
- Subject treatises
- Legal encyclopedias and digests
- Law review and journal titles
- Public access to the Westlaw legal research database.

State Data Center

Feeling overwhelmed by too much data about Iowa and its communities? The State Data Center offers accurate and up-to-date:

- Facts online
- Answers to quick data requests
- Statistical profiles of Iowa communities
- Statistical profiles of special population groups
- Custom data tabulations
- Data mapping
- Consultations on appropriate uses of data
- Referrals to high quality data sources

Medical Research

If you need help locating appropriate computer databases and other resources for medical research, the Medical Library staff can:

- Refer you to the best information sources on the Web, in print, and in state government;
- Supply answers to medical research questions.

Be sure to check out HealthInfoIowa, www.healthinfoiowa.org, a Web site with links to current, authoritative sources of medical information for health care.

Patents and Trademarks

If you are an inventor who has in-depth questions about either patents or trademarks, call the experts at the State Library of Iowa. The State Library is the only Patents and Trademarks Depository library in Iowa. Information is available on DVDs and paper, as well as books and expert advice to aid inventors and businesses. The collection includes a rare index of Iowa inventors and their inventions from 1843 through 1974.

State Documents

Need a state document?

The State Library is a central collection and distribution point for thousands of publications produced by state agencies, the state legislature, and state universities.

Come and Visit

The beautiful State Law Library is located in the State Capitol. All other State Library collections and services are located in the newly restored Ola Babcock Miller building on the Capitol Complex.
